

CO-FOUNDER AGREEMENT

This Co-Founder Agreement ("Agreement") is entered into on 10 August 2025 between:

1. Victor Ofodile ("Main Co-Founder"), holding 60% equity in Sympli.
2. Neil Tripathi ("Technical Co-Founder"), holding 40% equity in Sympli.

Both parties agree to collaborate in building and operating Sympli ("the Company") under the terms below.

1. Equity Split

- Main Co-Founder: 60%
- Technical Co-Founder: 40%

This reflects the Main Co-Founder's lead role in business operations and the Technical Co-Founder's role in building the technical side of the Company.

2. Roles & Responsibilities

Main Co-Founder (60%):

- Leads company vision, business operations, and strategic direction.
- Oversees business development, partnerships, fundraising, and public representation.
- Consults with the Technical Co-Founder on technical feasibility and product direction.

Technical Co-Founder (40%):

- Leads backend and system architecture, coding core infrastructure, APIs, and integrations.
- Oversees product development timelines and technical execution.
- Participates in business decision-making, providing input on strategic choices without being the lead.
- Ensures technical scalability, security, and maintainability of all systems.

3. Time Commitment

- Both co-founders commit to dedicating a minimum of 20 hours per week (or as otherwise mutually agreed in writing) to the development and growth of Sympli.
- If either co-founder consistently fails to meet the agreed time commitment for more than 4 consecutive weeks without valid cause (e.g., medical emergency), the other co-founder may initiate a discussion to adjust equity, responsibilities, or both.

4. Decision-Making

- Major decisions (e.g., sale of the company, changes in equity, major funding agreements) require agreement from both co-founders.

CO-FOUNDER AGREEMENT

- Business decisions are led by the Main Co-Founder, but the Technical Co-Founder will be actively involved in discussions, provide input, and participate in decision-making before final approval.
- Day-to-day operational decisions are made by the Main Co-Founder, with transparency to the Technical Co-Founder on significant developments.
- Technical decisions are led by the Technical Co-Founder, in consultation with the Main Co-Founder.

5. Conflict Resolution

- Both parties agree to resolve disputes first through mediation before initiating any legal proceedings.
- A mutually agreed neutral third party will be appointed to help mediate and propose solutions.
- If mediation fails, disputes shall proceed to binding arbitration under UK law.

6. Vesting Schedule

- The 40% equity held by the Technical Co-Founder and the 60% equity held by the Main Co-Founder will be subject to a 12-month cliff and 4-year vesting schedule.
- If a co-founder departs before the cliff period ends, no equity will be vested.
- This ensures commitment to the Company and protects against early departures that could harm investor confidence.

7. Intellectual Property & Code Ownership

- All intellectual property, including but not limited to backend code, technical documentation, product designs, APIs, algorithms, and architecture created for Sympli by either co-founder, shall be the exclusive property of Sympli.
- The Technical Co-Founder will be credited as the original author of the backend systems in internal and external technical documentation.
- The backend code and related IP cannot be licensed, sold, or reused in other projects without written consent from both co-founders.
- Any external libraries or tools integrated into the backend must be licensed in a way that does not restrict the Company's ability to operate or monetize its products.

8. Confidentiality

- Both parties agree to keep all sensitive information about Sympli confidential unless agreed in writing.

9. Exit & Transfer of Equity

- Any departing co-founder must give at least 30 days' written notice.
- The remaining co-founder has the first right to buy out the other's equity at fair market value, mutually agreed or determined via independent valuation.

10. Governing Law

- This Agreement is governed by the laws of the United Kingdom.

Appendix A - Time Commitment & Roles Outline (Non-Binding Guidance)

- Both co-founders will review their respective roles quarterly to ensure fair contribution and alignment with company needs.
- If business priorities shift, the allocation of responsibilities can be adjusted by mutual consent.
- The Technical Co-Founder will remain actively informed about key business developments, while the Main Co-Founder will remain actively informed about key technical developments.
- Communication between co-founders should be maintained weekly, at a minimum, to align priorities.
